Lowell brought up that a class on basic locksmithing is in talks for November - it will be on Friday, Saturday and Sunday and taught by ALOA first choice will go to OMLA members and then other locksmiths.

This class is in conjunction with the agreement made with the other members of the alarm industry in Oklahoma.

This course will be limited to 26 persons with a minimum of 14 to hold the class and will probably cost between $500 and $900 not including the hotel room. It will be a very, very basic course (key I.D., etc.)

Director West Frank Bellizzi - Not present.

Director Central Gary Frame - Not Present.

Director East Jim Loomis - Since we have decided to have a swap meet again this August he will take the lead in its planning and implementation, so get out all that good stuff that is cluttering your shop and get a table!

(Some of us have more clutter than others, but it's all good for your table.)

Legislative Action Committee Lowell Roberts - Several of the States are going after the locksmith scammers (Official term for those type of people who are ruining our reputations and our livelyhood).

Good of the Order:

We need nominations for the Kenny Lee Award. If you know of someone who is deserving of this prestigious award please let Mike McGrew or one of the other officers know as quickly as you can.

The 40th Anniversary plans are moving along at a rapid pace. The Board was shown:

1. an outline for the festivities.

2. some displays of pictures and application of early members of the association.

3. that some of the VIP invitations have been sent out.

4. we still need more pictures from previous meetings, events and of members, if you or anyone you know has pictures or memorabilia please let Debbie Hudacek or Jackie Roberts know in short order as they will be displayed at our 40th.

We have an application for membership who was not present at the last meeting but is here tonight and was considered for membership at this time. His name is Chris Rossell. Lowell made a motion that we admit him to membership with a second from Dusty.

Great prizes were drawn for and all whose numbers were drawn were happy and would like to thank our friends at IDN Acme for these prizes. IDN Acme is one of our generous Distributors. When you order from them please remember to thank them for their contributions of prizes for our meetings.

Motion made by Brad to adjourn and seconded by Gini with a unanimous approval by the membership.

Respectfully Submitted
